Vietamese-English-Vietnamese Pocket Dictionary	[External] A heavily dog-eared Vietnamese-English dictionary. The cover is marked with indentations from being written on. [Internal] Too many words are highlighted for any to stand out.	Only a tangential link to potential subterfuge. Is only suspicious in the context of the other items in the locker.
Surgical Gloves	Three pairs of black gloves. New. The sharp scent of latex hits the air as you unroll them.	Uncertain connection to subterfuge. Could be used to conceal finger prints or to handle chemicals etc., but also have many other purposes.
Handful of Coins	A handful of 5 hao coins. Barely weigh anything in your hand. They're mint new; glistening aluminium.	The lightness of the coins could be attributed to them being a light aluminium rather than hollow for concealing tiny items, so it is not immediately clear that the Player should consider the coins evidence of subterfuge. The newness of the coins also lends evidence to them possibly being suspicious.
Pocket Tools	[External] The smooth capsule fits easily in your palm. [Internal] Half a dozen tiny tools in pristine condition: wrench, scalpel, screwdriver, pick, file.	Not necessarily indicative on its own, but in context of other items suggests spycraft and subterfuge due to the specialised nature of the tools, the quality, and deliberate concealability.
Dental Mold Kit	[External] Worn edges and a faulty latch - this dental kit has seen a lot of use. [Internal] The putty is grimy but still firm. The shape of dozens of keys are pressed into the underside.	Appears out of place based on what the Player knows about the person - invites closer scrutiny. Key impressions in the dental putty are an indicator that the item is not being used for its intended purpose and is instead concealing its use to gain entry/keys for secured assets.

SOULSBORNE-STYLE ITEM DESCRIPTIONS

ITEM NAME	USAGE	FLAVOUR TEXT
Dried-Blood Vial	Combined with [Fresh Water] to produce [Empty Vial].	"It's like me ma always said... waste not, want not, even if blood ends up in the soup."
Consumptive Vial	Restores 100% of your Health when consumed. Reduces ATK for a prolonged time.	"This fix is far worse than the pain. Grin and bear it." A sordid mix of unknown herbs and craven blood, said to have been concocted by the most desperate of knights in the darkest depths of battle. Only those finding themselves in dire need with no other path before them would choke down this vile syrup.
Moulded Bread	Restores 5% of your Health.	It doesn't look edible, but sometimes there's no other option.
Calathea's Mourning Locket	Key Item - Questline: [Unto the Death of Dreams]	It should have been a forbidden, blasphemous love. No Watchtower Nuns are permitted to wed, and yet Sister Calathea bound her flesh and spirit unto her Lady Knight with the Goddess's blessing. More than one song of devotion and love has been written of the pair, although her Lady Knight's name remains lost... or mayhap she never had one at all.
Sick Man's Skin	Key Item - Questline: [Pestilence on High]	Disgusting.
Turning Screw	Crafting material.	Gathered from the defunct interrogation chambers of long-dead inquisitors.
Ballad of the Carnal Hunger	Key Item - Questline: [A Scarlet Moon Rises]	Tattered scraps of parchment with vulgar scarlet ink. Maybe a bawdy tavern tale?
Crooked Sword	One-Handed Weapon	The smith who made this had no idea what they were doing.
Archcraven's Great Axe	Two-Handed Weapon	A terrifying sight in combat, the axes of the Archcravens are sought and prized even now.
Vorpal Fishknife	One-Handed Weapon	It stinks, but the fisherfolk of the bayou craft tools without equal.
